

Understanding modern, technological medicine: enchanted, disenchanted, or other?

M. Vest · A. Moyse 407

The worthless remains of a physician's calling: Max Weber, William Osler, and the last virtue of physicians

A.M. Nussbaum 419

"Just do your job": technology, bureaucracy, and the eclipse of conscience in contemporary medicine

J.A. Blythe · F.A. Curlin 431

Enchanted nature, dissected nature: the case of Galen's anatomical theology

K. Kornu 453

Re-enchanting the body: overcoming the melancholy of anatomy

J.J. Shuman 473

On the disenchantment of medicine: Abraham Joshua Heschel's 1964 address to the American Medical Association

A.B. Astrow 483

Patient reflections on the disenchantment of techno-medicine

D. Stahl 499